

Hailie Chui

Class: 4A

4th November, 2009 (Sunday)

Rainy

Today was a terrible day.

I woke up at eleven o'clock this morning. It was raining outside so I didn't want to go out. After lunch, I was bored, so I watched cartoons in the living room. It was fun. I sat on the soft sofa and enjoyed my snacks. I ate some delicious food, such as, chicken wings, French fries and biscuits. I drank some tasty cola, too. I thought French fries were more delicious than chicken wings.

At four o'clock, my mum told me that I needed to study for the dictation. However, I played online games in my room from four o'clock to twelve o'clock midnight. I was excited about the online games. I always won.

Suddenly, my mum rushed into my room because she heard that I was still playing online games. My mum shouted at me, "What are you doing? You should go to bed now!" "Sorry, mum." I replied.

In my dream, I woke up late the next day. Therefore, I was late for school. Also, I forgot to bring my homework. My class teacher punished me. I felt ashamed of myself. Fortunately, it was only a horrible dream.

I learnt that I should do the right thing at the right time.